

Craig LeFeber

Craig is Chief Compliance Officer for Bright Futures Wealth Management, LLC, and has been in the industry for more than 20 years, with experience in banking and insurance channels. He enjoys developing systems to ensure errors do not occur, but no business is perfect, and catching an occasional error provides satisfaction that his work has value.

“Some people might find it boring, but coming up with a system to review client trades for equitable treatment and to verify accurate billing is rewarding,” Craig says.

Craig has been doing supervisory work since 2011, and his experience comes from practice and access to people who have done compliance for years. He constantly reads compliance publications and regularly attends conferences to keep up-to-date in this ever-changing area.

On his own time, coaching tends to supplant compliance, as Craig has coached youth basketball and soccer, and enjoys all sports. He lives in Richmond, Va., with his wife, step-son and two sons. His wife is a physician, which is the focal point of the family’s schedule. Craig volunteers for a not-for-profit that helps her patients. Ideal vacations involve hiking in the mountains, though any vacation with young kids is an adventure. ADV PART 2B
